

SUSPECTS RELEASED IN BORO KILLING

The Levittown Times

Delaware Valley's Great Home Newspaper

VOL. 53, No. 11 Member ABC LEVITTOWN, PA., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 26, 1962 32 PAGES PRICE SEVEN CENTS

U.S. Boards Lebanese Ship, 'No Difficulties Expected'

Port Option Taken

An option to purchase the Delaware River frontage of the Warner Company's Van Seiver tract for use as a port facility was signed today.

The decision to take the option was announced by William C. Henwood, chairman of the Bucks County Port Facilities Feasibility Study Committee. The committee's decision was reached after it conducted a complete analysis of all existing studies prepared to

(See picture, Page 3)

County Port Facilities Feasibility Study Committee. The committee's decision was reached after it conducted a complete analysis of all existing studies prepared to

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

Good Evening!

5.0. Barring For GGG.

Another morning.

Each one experienced is kind of a success, what with the world crises.

This morning had a white mantle which, despite the calendar, says winter has intruded.

Yes it's a week for unusual, important events and the weatherman says this snow is the heaviest we've ever had this early.

It's also a record cold—and that can apply to the weather or the news.

Khrushchev says he will stop shipments to Cuba for three weeks while everyone talks. Everyone who has dealt with the Russians or the Reds knows that when they can't advance they talk openly and move secretly.

This is not the time to ease up. This is the time to ask guarantees that the missile bases not only won't be worked on but that they will be dismantled.

Then we'll talk.

In fact that first Russian tanker should have been boarded. That is what we had promised and that is what we should have done.

In Bristol Borough a little girl is buried, a man confesses, murdering her, but the police, although anxious to wrap up the case, are working hard to disprove or prove his story.

There has been little sleep for the police who have dedicated themselves to catching the murderer of this nine-year-old. Clue after clue has been run down. A shocked community has provided many leads and they all have to be investigated.

If this man isn't the murderer then a lot more work will be needed.

State highway department fixes the Tullytown Bridge. Do they do anything to advise motorists of this? No!

Instead of putting a detour sign near the Edgely Bridge the highway department lets motorists drive up to the Tullytown Bridge, then tells the motorist the bridge is out and he has to go back to Edgely.

Drive-in banks, claims the cynic, were established so that cars could see their real owners.

The old-timer remembers when you could promise a kid the moon without having to buy him a space suit.

Be careful.

Heavy 'Frost' On Pumpkins

Lower Bucks County was surprised today when a record snowfall for October was deposited. Trees bent near earth with the first snowfall of the year.

Above pumpkins, the symbol of Halloween, are outlined along the roadside in Morrisville. (Courier-Times Photo)

Record Snow For October Hits Here

A record October snowfall covered Lower Bucks County this morning as winter staged a cold, white preview.

The one-and-a-half inches of snow recorded by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Trenton was the heaviest since 1900. Meteorologist George Whiteley reported. That's as far back as the Trenton record books go.

The snowfall, which began shortly after 4 a.m., left between two and three inches in suburban areas and up to six inches in the western portion of the state.

Low Temperatures

Along with the snow came record low temperatures like 22 degrees in Somerset and 27 in Pittsburgh. The morning low here was 32, which fell three degrees shy of equalling the record low of 29 set in 1933.

Fair, breezy and cool is the forecast for today with the thermometer not expected to reach 50 degrees.

It will be clear and quite cold tonight with the mercury likely to dip to between 25 and 30 degrees. The record low for Oct. 27 is 27 degrees set in 1936.

Tomorrow's outlook for football fans is fair and continued cold with temperatures between 45 and 50 degrees. By Sunday the weatherman says it will be a bit warmer.

In 1940 Lower Bucks had a half-inch of snow on Oct. 19-20 and in 1925 an inch covered the area on Oct. 30-31.

Other depths today were four five inches at Blairsville, three at Meadville and two at Phillipsburg and Franklin.

Pittsburgh recorded the coldest Oct. 26 in its history when the mercury dropped to 27 degrees, one lower than the previous mark of 28 set in 1933.

Other temperatures in Western Pennsylvania were Somerset 22, Blairsville 23, Johnstown 23, Warren 29, Meadville 26, Franklin 27, Parker 30, Bradford 26, Altoona 29, DuBois 26.

Travel was slightly impeded today along the Pennsylvania Turnpike from Gateway to the Bedford Interchange but snow and cinder crews remedied the situation quickly.

Ahead Of Last Year

Bucks United Fund Hits 44 Pct. Of Goal

Bucks County's largest annual fund raising effort — the United Fund Campaign reported yesterday $253,584 or 44 per cent of its $578,500 goal had been reached and an overnight analysis of pledges received indicates the fund has a better-than-average chance of meeting its goal.

Fund President Frank T. Dilworth appeared during the day at report sessions in Pennell, Doylestown, and Quakertown, and expressed "general satisfaction with our progress, which is substantially ahead of the same report date last year."

Fund headquarters announced that 20 per cent of goal had been achieved for the same campaign period a year ago.

Can Be Deceiving

"Unfortunately, these optimistic reports can be deceiving," said Dilworth. "The volunteers who have turned in reports as they promised to do, by this date, have done an outstanding job."

"But their fine results have been offset by a number of companies and individuals who have failed to respond to our urgent requests for early reports. They assure us they're getting the job done better than ever before, but quite frankly, our auditors cannot tally promises. They can only report the results of signed pledge cards.

"Today I am sending our three chairmen, Paul Sauerbry, Frank Shelley and Elmer Wyckoff some specific suggestions they might try to stimulate our late arrivals to do a better job. There's no logical reason why Bucks County can't do its United Fund job in a reasonable time period," Dilworth said.

Firm Lead

On a regional basis, Lower Bucks' campaigners, headed by Sauerbry, are holding a firm lead with 45 per cent of their $475,000 goal. The Foundations section, headed by John Catz, vice president of Fidelity - Philadelphia Trust Company, topped 100 per cent yesterday.

Only a few points behind, with 94 per cent of goal, the lawyers (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Twp. Roads Dept. Head Dies At 66

John E. Weidman, 66, of 1718 State Road, Croydon, superintendent of the Bristol Township Highway Department for 25 years, died at 2:15 a.m. today in the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital at 1707 Green St., Philadelphia.

Except for five years when he worked for the Hunter Manufacturing Co., now known as the Thio-kol Chemical Corp. on Newportville Road, Bristol Township, Weidman had worked all his life for the highway department.

The body was removed to the George Moiden Funeral Home, on Otter St., Bristol, where funeral arrangements are being made.

Born Aug. 14, 1896, he was the son of the late John and Rhoda Weidman. He was a member of the Odd Fellows Club at Holmesburg, near Philadelphia; and the Redmen's Lodge at Croydon.

Survivors include his widow, Edith M.; a daughter, Mrs. Ziblah D. Baehrer, 1812 Keystone St., Croydon; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Exner of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Frances Oliver of Feasterville; and four grandchildren.

Under Soviet Charter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. Navy inspection party boarded a Lebanese ship sailing under Soviet charter to Cuba today in the first such incident since the blockade went into operation.

The ship was a freighter, the 7,268-ton marucla. It was intercepted on the quarantine ring by two destroyers, the Joseph P. Kennedy (named for President Kennedy's brother, killed during the war), and the Pierce.

The boarding party reported to the Defense Department that "cooperation good, no difficulties expected."

Although of Lebanese registry, the Marucla was chartered by the Russians and was sailing from the Soviet Baltic port of Riga, Latvia.

The boarding party was still aboard at 10:20 a.m., when the Defense Department made its announcement.

Tanker Is First

Until the Navy crew completed its inspection of the manifest and questioning of the crew, the Pentagon said, "we cannot be sure of the composition of the cargo."

The first ship to be intercepted by the blockade task force was to pass through the quarantine ring Thursday because its cargo (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Intensive Manhunt Renewed

By ROGER KOHN and SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writers

Bristol Borough and state police today renewed their intensive manhunt for the sex-slaying of nine-year-old Carol Ann Dougherty after two suspects — a 60-year-old handyman and a teenager — were released when exhaustive questioning failed to link them with Monday's murder.

A new lead developed late this afternoon when police disclosed they were looking for a 20-year-old Bristol youth. Lt. Edward McGroarty of the state police said the boy's mother told them that her son has been missing since Monday.

"We don't know if he has any connection with the case," McGroarty stated, "but we want to locate him for questioning."

The handyman, whose name was withheld by the Courier-Times, had repeatedly confessed to the strangulation of the blonde schoolgirl in the choir loft of St. Mark's Catholic Church, Radcliffe St., Bristol.

Police Chief Vincent Faragalli, however, said the man was released shortly after noon. The man was described as a "little slow mentally."

The other suspect was picked up by police this morning while attending funeral services for the Bristol Township girl in St. Mark's Church.

Faragalli described him as a "curiosity seeker." He too was released after questioning.

Faragalli declined to reveal the handyman's name until the investigations were concluded. "It is possible the man confessed to a crime he had not committed," he said.

Although the wire services and radio facilities used the suspect's name, the Courier-Times went along with the police chief's wish to withhold the name until his story is completely checked out.

One police officer high up in the investigations said it was "highly improbable" that the suspect committed the murder.

"He might be a bit slow, but he's not a nut," Faragalli added. "A lot of the work we did was actually done out of fairness to him. This isn't a burglary, it's a man's life and I want to be quite sure."

Faragalli said the man was picked up last night at his home as the result of information received from the public. Witnesses had seen him in the area, Faragalli reported, and soon after he was brought to the Bristol station, he confessed to the murder.

Police interrogated the suspect (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

200 Including Classmates

Attend Rites

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Carol Ann Dougherty, nine-year-old girl who was murdered Monday by a sex fiend, was laid to rest today.

Some 200 persons, including the girl's parents and her entire fifth (See picture on Page 3)

grade classmates, attended the 45-minute Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Mark's Church, Bristol.

It was in the choir loft of the Roman Catholic church on Radcliffe St. where her body was found Monday evening by her father. The blonde school girl was raped and strangled in the church where she had stopped to pray on her way to a library to return two books.

6 Boys Carry Casket

Six boys carried the tiny white casket out of the church at 10:45 a.m. at the conclusion of the service conducted by seven priests. Preceding the young pallbearers were six girls, also classmates of Carol's, who were honorary pallbearers.

Tears streamed down faces of both young and old as they filed out of the 117-year-old church into cold, brisk winds and 38-degree temperature.

Carol's young classmates found it hard to hold back the tears as they walked solemnly out of the church. One girl broke down sobbing into the arms of her mother.

Outside Church

Outside the church during the service there were only four women standing on the snow-covered ground.

Bristol Borough police and state police were at the church. Some attended the service while others kept a vigilant eye outside in hopes of uncovering additional clues in their widespread hunt for the killer.

Mass Celebrant

Msr. E. Paul Baird, rector of St. Mark's Church and vicar forane of Bucks County, was celebrant for the Solemn Requiem Mass.

Rev. Joseph Sabadish was the deacon and Rev. Michael Carroll was sub-deacon. Both are from St. Mark's.

In the sanctuary were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas F. McNally, archbishop of the Philadelphia Archdiocese; Rev. Arthur Elliott of Immaculate Conception Church, Levittown; Rev. Joseph M. Collins of St. Michael the Archangel Church, Levittown, and Rev. Martin J. O'Halloran, Immaculate Conception Church, Jenkintown. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Officers To Arrive Via Coach 5th Chamber Fete To Be Royal Affair

More than 300 guests are expected to hear Dr. Murray Banks, New York City psychologist, lecturer and writer, at the fifth annual dinner of the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce tomorrow.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. at the Golden Horse Inn, Route 1 and Street Road, Treviso, preceded by a social hour from 6 to 7 o'clock.

Music for dancing will be provided from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. by Wayne Barrie and his orchestra.

Toastmaster will be Charles G. Wilkinson.

The event will be highlighted by a Brougham Coach of red, gold and black, drawn by two golden palomino horses, which is expected to arrive at the inn at 6 o'clock.

It will carry officers of the chamber — A. Marilyn Moyer Jr., (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Civil Defense Steps Up Preparedness

200 Attend Emergency Session In Doylestown

By PAUL ALTAIRE
Courier-Times Staff Writer

Somehow it doesn't seem too many years ago when in every municipality throughout the country groups of men and women — air raid wardens — donned arm bands and mapped out plans on what to do in the event of an enemy attack.

Yet there it was again last night, 20 years later almost to the day, as some 200 persons gathered in emergency session at the courthouse in Doylestown to cope with the identical problem they were faced with two decades ago.

Although the Civil Defense effort has not been dead throughout the years, little more than a faint heartbeat has kept CD from slipping into oblivion.

But the weakened pulse of CD quickened rapidly as the U.S. this week took steps to halt the flow of offensive arms to Cuba by instituting a blockade in the Caribbean area.

Last night's meeting of Civil Defense preparedness stepped up American preparedness for a possible emergency which might result from the highly tense Cuban situation.

Heading the CD effort in the county was Col. Louis A. Stretch, Bucks director of Civil Defense.

The Civil Defense directors, representing scores of municipalities throughout Bucks County, last night were indoctrinated into the departmental setup devised by the national CD effort and were introduced to the Bucks County deputies of the various operational fields.

The first part of the meeting dealt with familiarizing them with administrative aspects of Civil Defense so that the directors would know which persons and which division is responsible for each facet of the overall operation.

Acquiring Locations

The second portion of the meeting dealt with the major problem of protection of lives in the event of a nuclear attack.

The directors were advised that the federal government is now acquiring locations throughout the county which would serve as public shelters.

Teams of architects, engineers and technicians are visiting various buildings throughout the county and making arrangements with the owners of such properties to stock the shelters with food, medical supplies, and the necessities which would serve to protect its occupants for a 14-day period.

Must Supply Food

Persons with home shelters were advised on what to do, how to prepare for a two-week stay in the shelter, and what steps to take should an attack occur.

While the government will provide the needs for public shelters, home shelter, owners while up (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Booze In A Boot The Biggest Boon

Jesse Bogue

at Christmas time, not a cent during the rest of the year.

Booze in a boot was the biggest boon the whisky business has known for years, according to Jesse Bogue, financial editor of United Press International. On Page 7, today's feature page, Bogue tells how this, and other unusual types of decanters, means millions to the distillers.

INDEX

Amusements	14	Movie Timetable	14
Building	18, 19	Obituaries	26
Classified	23-29	School Menus	16
COINWORD	27	Sports	20, 21
Editorials	6	Stocks	26
Editorial Features	7	TV Review	11
Jacoby On Bridge	36	TV Schedule	31
Junior Reporter	30	Women's News	12, 13

Courier-Times Classified Phone Number—WI 3-1000
Classified Dept. Night Phone — WI 6-4600

The body of Carol Ann Dougherty is carried out of St. Mark's Church by six classmates who were pallbearers at the funeral today. Standing in front of the casket are six girls, also classmates, who were honorary pallbearers. (Courier-Times Photo)

The Levittown Times

Delaware Valley's Great Home Newspaper

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1962

PAGE 3

Civil Defense

(Continued from Page 1)

der the supervision of the national CD effort, will be required to provide their own food and necessities, the directors were told.

Will Be Advised

While the populace will be advised in the near future on what steps to take to insure its protection as well as what shelter to utilize, Charles McGill, shelter officer for Bucks County gave these words of advice to home shelter owners:

Purchase a 20 gallon galvanized can for water and a similar can for human waste.

McGill said large families should determine how many such cans they would require on the basis of how many will occupy the shelter, multiplied by one quart of water per day for each person for a two week period.

Suggested Food

Suggested foods were such which would keep well for a two-week period and in which there is little or no waste. Graham or whole wheat crackers, for example, were cited as high in calories and could be eaten in their entirety with nothing left to dispose of; hard candies for children to provide them with energy and a treat to compensate for the monotonous existence in a shelter.

McGill said that foods which come in paper, such as crackers, bread and dried cereals, would be ideal because canned items constitute a litter problem since the empties take up too much room.

McGill said foods which require heating should be avoided since heat raises the temperature of the shelter and also constitutes a fire hazard.

Medical Supplies

Medical supplies were also advised, including alcohol. Rolls of toilet tissue were recommended in place of tissues since this requires less storage room.

Since water use should be kept at a minimum, it was suggested that occupants of the shelter use several folds of toilet tissue dampened with a little water and alcohol to wipe their faces, hands and mouth.

Another must is a battery-powered radio so that in the event there is no telephone in the shelter — or telephone lines are down — occupants can be advised of conditions on the outside by tuning in the Conelrad stations at the 640 and 1240 frequencies or any local station which remains on the air.

Shelter Managers

The directors were advised to seek out shelter managers who could keep calm during emergencies and yet be capable of making decisions.

Every person in a shelter should be given some specific duty such as security officers, fire officers, communications, garbage, food, and other categories.

One person should be designated as the spiritual leader, preferably a priest, minister or rabbi, or lay leader.

Important Part

This, McGill said, is an important part of shelter existence since confined persons would find comfort in prayer and devotion.

The directors were advised that the full scale program is now being pushed into operation through local and federal Civil Defense units and that further plans for shelters will be announced at the next meeting of the group, the date of which has not yet been set.

Meeting Monday

LCA Conducts Survey Of Teenagers' Needs

A survey to determine and evaluate what the area offers its young citizens by way of leisure time activities is currently being conducted by the Levittown Civic Association, Mrs. Margaret Connor, president, said today.

The survey committee is comprised of civic leaders, educators, members of the clergy, municipal and county officials, recreational and youth leaders, county and community service directors, and businessmen.

Meeting Monday

A meeting to acquaint community leaders with the survey objectives, background and details, and to bring them up-to-date as to what has been accomplished so far has been set for 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Betty Callum, 46 Forsythia Drive North, Levittown. Mrs. Connor said.

The LCA president pointed out that it has been predicted that there will be a sharp rise in the number of teenagers in the area for the next few years. The following statistics for children in the 12 to 18 age group were compiled by the LCA:

The Figures

Bristol Township, 7,916 and 11,705; Falls Township, 3,914 and 4,162; Middletown Township, 3,533 and 5,247; and Tullytown Borough, 306 and 406.

While elected and appointed officials must necessarily devote their time to present-day problems, an increase of nearly 6,000 youngsters in the four municipalities would clearly indicate the need for future planning, Mrs. Connor said.

The survey, in essence, is a community self-appraisal in which community leaders will inventory present recreational, cultural and social opportunities and facilities of the area. The leaders will then evaluate the effectiveness of these facilities and determine the needs, and project their plans to meet the challenge of the increase in the population of young adults.

Span Traffic Is Hindered

Only one-way traffic will be allowed across the Tullytown Bridge, while concrete is being poured to repair a "bump," said Tullytown Borough Police Chief John B. Walterick.

Chief Walterick said that motorists entering Tullytown Borough, should by-pass the bridge via the Edgely Bridge.

He added, however, that the one-way traffic is being observed only during the periods that the workers are pouring concrete. Otherwise, traffic is being allowed to travel both ways across the bridge.

The chief asked that motorists be particularly careful while crossing over the span. A flagman from the county highway department is on duty during the daylight hours to conduct traffic, and the work area is well-lighted with flares in the evenings.

He said that barriers and signs have been placed near the work area as a special precaution.

The repair work is being done by the county branch of the state highway department. It is expected to be completed in about a week.

Church Group: Keep Calm

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Council of Churches today urged the leaders and the people of the United States to exercise "the utmost restraint, calmness and control" in the Cuban crisis.

It also appealed to government leaders to keep open the channels of diplomatic negotiation, and to make the "fullest" possible use of international peace-keeping agencies such as the United Nations.

Bucks United Fund Hits 44 Pct. Of Goal

(Continued from Page 1)

in Lower Bucks appear to be setting a new high in giving.

It's been reported that chairman of the section, attorney Wil-

U.S. Boards

(Continued from Page 1)

was petroleum, which is not embargoed.

In Thursday's case, only radio contact was made.

But this morning, the Navy went aboard.

The meeting between the two destroyers and the freighter took place about 180 miles northeast of Nassau. At 7:24 a.m., EDT, this morning, the U.S. ships received instructions to go aboard, the Defense Department said.

At 7:29 a.m. EDT, the Pentagon said, the Joseph P. Kennedy lowered a whale boat. The boarding team was led by Lt. Cmdr. Dwight G. Osborne of East Paterson, N.J., and Lt. Cmdr. Kenneth C. Reynolds of Coronado, Calif. Osborne is executive officer of the Pierce and Reynolds is the executive officer of the Kennedy.

Three minutes after the whaleboat was over the side, the Marula lowered a Jacob's ladder so the Navy team could come aboard.

At 7:30 a.m., the whaleboat was underway to the freighter. It approached the ship at 7:39 a.m. and at 7:46 a.m. had drawn alongside.

At 7:50 a.m., the Defense Department said, "the leaders of the boarding party stepped on the Marula's deck."

Two and a half hours later, the inspection team still was aboard. The Defense Department said it did not know at that time whether the crew was Russian or Lebanese.

Command Destroyers

"The skippers of the two U.S. destroyers are Cmdr. James W. Foust of Greensburg, Pa., on the Pierce, and Cmdr. Nicholas Mikhailovsky of Staten Island, N.Y., on the Kennedy.

Whether the ship was allowed to proceed or ordered to turn back depended on its cargo. If "offensive materials" were aboard—such as equipment for missile sites—it would be ordered to turn around.

Further Action Considered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department made clear today that "further action" of an unspecified nature is being considered to deal with the continuing Soviet missile buildup in Cuba.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White stressed in a statement to reporters that construction of medium and intermediate missile facilities in Cuba still is going on.

White called newsmen's attention to President Kennedy's statement over nationwide television Monday that should "offensive military preparations in Cuba continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified."

200 Attend

(Continued from Page 1)

Rev. O'Halloran accompanied Msgr. McNally.

Funeral Procession

At 10:53 a.m. the long funeral procession left the church and wended its way up Radcliffe St. enroute to Our Lady of Grace Cemetery, Langhorne.

The funeral was under the direction of the Murphy Funeral Home, Radcliffe St., Bristol. Carol is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Dougherty, and a sister, Kay Ellen, 3, of 68 Manor Circle, Landreth Manor, Bristol Township.

Mrs. Boyance Is Cleared

Bucks County Judge Lawrence A. Monroe has squashed charges brought against Mrs. Juanita Boyance that she fraudulently obtained public assistance.

Mrs. Boyance, the mother of eight children, is the wife of Rudolph Boyance who is currently serving time on 25 counts of burglary. The family lives at 5741 Hulmeville Road, Cornwells Heights.

Judge Monroe sustained Public Defender Peter Glasco's motion that the case be thrown out on the grounds that it should have been heard before a justice of the peace.

Births

Lower Bucks County Hospital

Oct 24

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Williams, 20 North Court Lane, Levittown, girl.

Oct. 25

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gallagher, 62 Schumacher Drive, Bristol, boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tummarlo, 14 Aster Lane, Levittown, boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoover, 4601 Eugene Drive, Bristol, girl.

liam Begley, has made personal calls on every lawyer in the Lower Bucks area. An unexpectedly large number of Lower Bucks attorneys have adopted the Fund's suggested fair share giving plan of 1 per cent of income, payable in quarterly installments during the coming year.

Company employee and corporate gifts have been light during the past week and the industrial chairmen in each area, Arthur Krebs, Sanford Nemetz, and Tom Shea, representing Lower, Central, and Upper Bucks respectively, were alerted to step up their in-plant campaigns without further delay.

In the Major Corporations Division, the most optimistic news came from Rohm & Haas Company, whose employees have already topped their $40,000 goal, setting a new high in giving by the firm's personnel.

Pennsbury Impressive

The single-most impressive report in yesterday's audit was Pennsbury School system's $12,984, compared to $5,700 last year. The participation by all personnel with the Pennsbury system is in excess of 98 per cent.

In the Central Bucks area campaign leaders were hopeful that the Bucks County Commissioners would give favorable consideration to a payroll deduction plan by which Bucks County government employees could contribute their fair share through small payday instalments.

"It may well be that the success or failure of the Central Bucks Campaign will rest with the results obtained among county government employees," said Dilworth. "With new electronic data processing equipment, payroll deduction plans for county government employees can be instituted without difficulty, and we are convinced that the majority of county employees will welcome such a plan if it is approved."

Special Bulletin

All campaign leaders were alerted last night by a special bulletin indicating the percentages of goals that have been achieved to date. Only a few have failed to make any reports until this time, but collectively, their prospect cards total more than $75,000; and the failure of anyone of the campaign workers to reach his goal could dangerously reduce the possibility that Bucks County is embarked on a second successful United Campaign.

A number of needle trade companies in the Upper Bucks area have more than doubled their giving of last year, and each one of Wyckoff's divisions has turned in more than 40 per cent of his goal.

In Central Bucks, Shelley reports that Division "A," representing banks, real estate, insurance companies, and small industries, are leading the field with 37 per cent of goal reported.

At 47 Pct

In Lower Bucks, Sauerby announced that the Major Corporations Division, with 47 per cent of its goal reported to date has set the pace of a "highly responsible campaign effort." Sauerby also announced that shortly the results from such firms as Thiokol, Bell Telephone Co., Robertson Manufacturing Co., Victor Chemical Works, and Strick Trailer Co., could be analyzed in detail and would undoubtedly produce "inspirational news for the entire Bucks County Campaign."

"We consider it a realistic appraisal to ask all of our campaign leaders to report not less than 90 per cent of their goals during the coming week," Dilworth said. "In other words, we are setting our sights for a figure of approximately $450,000, double the present amount, on or before Thursday, Nov. 1. If any company needs additional supplies or campaign assistance, it should contact Fund Headquarters immediately (SK 7-5191 or WI 3-1551). Headquarters personnel will also welcome calls from any individuals who wish to give at place of residence and are not called upon within the next five days," he said.

Although no official closing date has been announced for the present United Fund Campaign effort, it is the widely held view of campaign leaders that all group and individual prospects should have been contacted for their final reports by the first week in November.

"If there is any volunteer on our team who feels that he cannot complete his assignments, he should contact us immediately," said Dilworth. "With as much dispatch as possible under such circumstances, we will reassign such accounts to other volunteers."

Crash Tip Awarded $5

A news tip on a motorcycle accident paid off in cash for a 12-year-old Highland Park, Levittown boy for the best news tip received by the Courier-Times from a reader last week.

Winner of the weekly award was Carl Schwait of 5 Harrow Road who was on his way to buy ice cream when he observed the accident. Carl immediately phoned WI 3-1000, the Courier-Times. The result, plenty of extra ice cream money for Carl.

Whether it is ice cream or some other thing you can use, $5 can come in handy just for phoning the best tip of the week. Try it.

Shown at the meeting today to discuss purchase of the Warner Company Van Seiver plant's Delaware River frontage for a port facility are (from left) William Henwood, chairman of the county port facilities feasibility study committee; Edward Boyer, chairman of the county board of commissioners; Herbert Barnes, past president of the county industrial development corporation; Adolph A. Andrews, county commissioner; and Reese Lloyd, president and chairman of the board of Warner Company. (Courier-Times Photo)

Option Is Taken On Site For Port

(Continued from Page 1)

evaluate the facility, as well as a preliminary engineering study.

The 3.1 mile, deep water frontage of the tract was considered the most feasible location for the port facility. The frontage is adjacent to the U.S. Steel Fairless Works property and runs downstream to the Franklin Basin area.

The Van Seiver Tract contains in excess of 6,500 acres and includes one tenth of the entire Delaware River deep water frontage from the Fairless Works to the Philadelphia Navy Yard on the Pennsylvania side of the river. It has access to the Pennsylvania Turnpike, proposed Delaware Expressway and both major railroads.

The Port Committee, established by the county commissioners, was charged with the responsibility to determine if Bucks County should have port facilities, and if so, how they might best be obtained.

Present at the press conference held at Pennsbury Inn prior to a tour of the frontage being considered in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania's boat, The Commonwealth, were the County Commissioners, Edward B. Boyer, Adolph A. Andrews, and Port Study Committee members, John Rodgers, Herbert Barnes, Joseph D. Ceader, Daniel H. Erdman, Charles Lucisano, Henry Palmer, Jr., Thomas B. Stockham, III, Roland Sykes, and Gordon R. Exley, 2d.

Representing the borough of Tullytown was Mayor Nick Eberly and Falls Township, Supervisor, Milton Berkes.

Sandy Oppenheimer, Managing editor of the Courier-Times, A. Marilyn Loyer, president of the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce, George M. Rogers, secretary of the Delaware Valley Council, and a representative from the Department of Commerce, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, also attended.

Warner Representatives

Representing the Warner Company was president and chairman of the board, Reese Lloyd and the following executives: Thomas H. Steward, vice president of finance; F. V. J. Haggerty, vice president of Sales Construction Materials; Clarence B. Rule, vice president of Operations; Al Doud, personnel manager, Van Seiver operation of Warner Company; John Zelek, manager of Operations; Van Seiver operation, Warner Company; Wilbur Anderson, manager, Morrisville Concrete Plant of the Warner Company; Theodore Tobish, sales manager, Morrisville Concrete Plant of the Warner Company; and William Manning, manager of Sales, Slag and Paving Materials, Morrisville Plant, Warner Company.

Twirling Unit Seeks Members

Lower Bucks County's newest marching corps, the Twilit Twirlers, is looking for boys and girls between the ages of six to 21 to join their organization.

Mrs. Milton Sells of 167 Holly Drive, Levittown, director of the corps, has announced that baton twirling enthusiasts may report to the Croydon Fire Co. No. 1 hall on State Road, Croydon, Saturday mornings from 10 to 11 a.m.

David Cote of Morrisville, Pennsylvania state senior boys' baton twirling champion, is instructor of the Twilit Twirlers.

Anyone interested in joining the corps may call Mrs. Sells at WI 6-0682 or Mrs. Rita Suggs at ME 9-3089, according to Mrs. Sells.

Lloyd stated the company was most pleased to cooperate in an effort such as this, that had the most significant effect on the future of the area's economy. Lloyd added that, in his judgment, the tract being considered was unsurpassed in its potential for such a use, which was the prime factor in the Company's decision to make this land available if needed by the County.

Clarence Wieker, engineer and consultant to the committee, was also present.

During the river front tour, Henwood explained that the engineering firm to complete the final study was about to be engaged and that the committee's report and recommendation to the County Commissioners would be available within the next six months.

Murder

(Continued from Page 1)

for several hours and then took him to St. Mark's where, according to Faragalli, he gave a "pretty good" reenactment of the crime. Many things the man told police, however, did not coincide with known facts, and these discrepancies are what police are now checking out.

The arrest of the man was the result of nearly three days' intensive work by Bristol Borough police, state police and county detectives.

During the course of the investigations, hundreds of people have been interviewed, and over 50 possible leads have been checked and later eliminated.

Yesterday, five other possible suspects were taken to the police station on Pond and Mulberry Sts. for questioning, only to be released later. Others have been pulled in and later cleared.

Carol lived at 68 Manor Circle, Landreth Manor.

On Monday, after returning home from St. Mark's School, she set off for the Bristol Free Library on her blue English bicycle. On the way she stopped at the church, as she did frequently. There she was assaulted, and strangled, in the choir loft.

Hair found near the girl's body was today being compared with hair from the 60-year-old suspect, in an effort to confirm his story.

Her body was discovered at 5:30 p.m. by her father, Frank Dougherty, who had gone out in search of his daughter when she failed to return home. Her bicycle was standing outside the church door.

Two Burglaries Are Reported

Burglars broke into two Levittown homes last night and made off with more than $80 in cash.

Mrs. Rosemarie Skoglund, 10 Cornflower Lane, Crabtree Hollow, reported to Bristol Township police that her home was burglarized while she was visiting a neighbor.

She told police that $29.50 was taken from one plastic container and $4 from another. The money, Mrs. Skoglund said, was proceeds from candy sales held by the Tip Topper majorettes, a baton-twirling group which has appeared in many parades in the area.

Mrs. Edith Hurst of 37 Oldpond Road, Orangewood, reported to police that burglars forced their way into her home through the front door early last night while she was out of the house.

She told police that $49 in small change, including several rolls of pennies, and a Craftsman vibrator sander, valued at $30, were taken.

L. Bucks Not Stocking Up

Lower Bucks residents seem to be taking the current international crisis calmly. At least they are not rushing out to stock up on canned foods and survival rations.

Several super market managers reported today that there had been no rush on such materials that could not be explained by sales advertising.

Paul F. Kerin, manager of Kane's Super Market, Emilie Shopping Center, said sales of canned goods was up considerably, but might be due to an anniversary sale.

John Bartolmei, manager of Food Fair, Levittown Shopping Center, said he could see "nothing different" this week over previous sales.

Herman Eickhoff, manager of Schaa's Super Market, Route 413 at Newportville Road, said two people came in to stock their shelter with canned meat, soup and juice. Otherwise, there was nothing to report that was unusual, he said.

Rep. Williams Answers Garb

"My friend and fellow attorney, Isaac S. Garb, has suggested I was able to scuttle a bill before the state legislature. As a second term member of the state assembly this would be a considerable accomplishment." Assemblyman Alan Williams said today.

"Unfortunately I cannot accept the honor bestowed upon me by Mr. Garb. His information is just not accurate and I hope he will exercise greater discretion if he ever becomes a lawmaker of the Commonwealth."

Garb alleges a deal involving a Bucks County judgeship and a harness racing bill.

"Bill Green, boss of the Philadelphia Democrats and his followers who control the state legislature, publically announced that if they did not get three new judges in Philadelphia, no judges for other counties would be authorized."

"The Republican party leaders refused to be blackmailed by Bill Green and instructed all Republicans to oppose all judgeship bills. In the interest of our need in Bucks County I still voted for an additional judge despite the position of my leadership. The bill failed to pass on the last day of the 1961 session by a vote of 97-77 despite my vote." Williams said.

Weather

TURNING MUCH COLDER

FORECAST: Fair, breezy and cool today; high 45-50. Clear and quite cold tonight; low 25-30. Tomorrow, fair and continued cold; high 45-50. Sunday, mostly fair, not so cold.

High today: 48. Low tonight: 28.

High yesterday: 46. Low yesterday: 32. Low this morning: 32.

Sunset tonight: 6:04 p.m. Sunrise tomorrow: 7:23 a.m. Sunset tomorrow: 6:03 p.m.

Tomorrow's Tides At Bristol

High: 3:03 a.m. Low: 10:15 a.m. High: 3:28 p.m. Low: 10:40 p.m. —for the tides at Morrisville, add 15 minutes for high tide and 45 minutes for low tide.